

INTERNATIONAL SHIRLEY CONVENTION!

Shirley Association International will hold their first INTERNATIONAL SHIRLEY CONVENTION May 1989 in England. The date yet to be determined.

Many people have expressed their regrets in not going to England with us in 1986. Some who did go have asked when am I going to go again as they would like to go back.

We hope you will begin making your plans to go with us and would apreciate hearing from you if you are interested in this trip.

It will be sometime before an itinerary has been developed along with dates of departure and return and the cost of the trip.

We will not be returning to all of the places we visited in 1986 but I do want to include places like Staunton Harold, Ettington, Wiston and Isfield.

I would like to include visits to places we haven't been such as...Windsor Castle, Dover, Gravesend, Isle of Wight, areas the Pilgrims lived before they came to America, and Sherwood Forest. There are some other Shirley places we didn't get to visit last time. We may include these if time allows.

Of course, we will include some entertainment along the way. We do strive to have a variety of events to make the trip a special one. You will dine well too! But most of all, you will meet some great people both on the trip traveling with you, and in England.

Announcement of the convention was made in the last issue of the International Shirley NEWS. We have already heard from a couple who are planning on going to England.

Speaking of our International members, I have learned of two branches of the Shirleys who say their roots comes from the Sussex England Shirleys. One says from Wiston Shirleys who went to Isle of Wight. This could tie into our American branches of Shirleys. The amazing thing is that this member has a John Shirley b. ca. 1732 in Bolney, Sussex. He married Hannah Stevens and their children are: Hannah, William, Elizabeth and Moses.

In our branch of Shirleys in New Hampshire who came from Ireland in 1730, we find a John Shirley who married Hannah Stevens and the name Moses runs in this branch. He was born ca. 1735.

The two branches mentioned above are members from New Zealand. So, perhaps their is a connection between the N.Z Shirleys and the American Shirleys of N.H.

I would like to repeat my request to hear from you if you are interested in going to England in 1989. I will initiate a list of those interested. I will begin making plans with our land agent in England in the very near future. We will not be using the same American company we used last time. This will save some extra expenditures. Also we will be going before the tourist season starts, so rates will be less.

HONORABLE MENTION Cathy Clarke, Glasgow, Ky.

Clarke, a photographer for the Glasgow Daily Times, was driving around in Metcalfe County looking for picture possibilities when she glimpsed 84-year-old Arvin Shirley out of the corner of her eye. "So I just whipped the car around real fast and went back," she said. "I asked him if I could take his picture and he just started grinning. I took about a roll and this was the one that jumped out of the pack. It was that one instant when he started grinning."

This was sent by Judith Lea, a member of the Shirley Assoc.

Cathy Clark entered this in a photo contest and received Honorable Mention.

How about someone in the area looking up Arvin Shirley and let us know about his family of Shirleys?

OBEDIAH SHIRLEY PROJECT UPDATE!

I am pleased to announce that the legal work is in motion and title to the property should be ours early 1988, according to our attorney.

The problem of cleaning out the junk from the house and boarding up the windows etc. have also been taken care of and our thanks to Tom Langston for his attention to this matter.

The checks received from the following, have been deposited by Shirley Faye Hill, our Project Chairman, into a special account. From that account, only a check in the amount of $1000 has been written and this has been placed in trust with our attorney for survey expenses, filing fees, etc.

We wish to thank the following people for their contributions:

We are thankful to you who have sent your checks and to you who will be sending your checks in the near future, for your support in helping us to get started on this project.

MORE MONEY WILL BE NEEDED AND WE HOPE OTHERS WILL PLEASE! GET INVOLVED.

It is quite an undertaking for us to perserve a Shirley home. It is thought this is the oldest home in the county. We are now involved with the Historical Society and working in co-operation in reguards to refurbishing this house. There are certain guidelines we must follow in our attempt to qualify for listing in the National Register.

We, Shirley Faye Hill and I, have sensed some excitment and enthusiasm when talking with Mr. Langston, & Mr. Badders of the Pendleton Historical Commission. We recently learned that Mr. Badders will be overseeing our project personally. We are very pleased to hear this.

We do have some ideas about fund raising and hope to share a special idea concerning a community fund raiser in May 1988, in the next issue of the NEWS.

This project will require raising thousands of dollars and we welcome ideas for fund raising.

We are especially interested to hear from all of you who will be coming to Honea Path South Carolina to help us with yard work, fences, carpentry, painting, electrical, and plumbing, etc.

PLEASE WRITE TO SHIRLEY FAYE HILL IF YOU ARE COMING TO HELP US AND TELL US YOUR AREA OF EXPERTISE. Her address is: 3627 Mt. Vernon, Ft. Worth, Texas 76103

We are checking about accomodations for you who are coming from out of the area. I hope to have the names of motels, camping facilities, etc. by the next issue. We might even get some invites from the local people to stay or park campers, motorhomes etc. in their yards.

I am looking for some high spirited Shirley descendants or anyone else in the Honea Path area to get behind us and help with getting material donated for the house... such as lumber, plumbing and electrical, roofing, landscaping material, plants etc. We will need to use some saws and tools. Anyone have a post hole driller? Skill saws, cords etc. we can use for a week? It is hard to bring these things on the plane for us who have to fly in.

I will bring my husband and others from California who work in contruction and I know there must be more carpenters and trade people who will also meet us there. This is a SHIRLEY project.

IF EVER THIS PROPERTY LEAVES US FOR ANY REASON, IT HAS TO GO TO ANOTHER NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION. IT IS NOT GOING TO BE MAKING ANYONE ANY MONEY! In other words, no one will be putting money in their pockets or will benefit personally from our work.

DO YOU KNOW ANYONE WHO CAN HELP US ORGANIZE OUR EFFORTS TO GET DONATIONS FROM BUSINESS PEOPLE IN THE AREA, AND WITH OUR COMMUNITY FUND RAISER IDEA? Please write either Shirley Faye Hill or myself, Betty Shirley. Thank you!

CHARLES SHIRLEY of WARREN CO. TENN.

Charles born 1831 Warren Co. Tenn. died Jan 13, 1863, C.S.A. Port Hudson, La. Married Eliza Jane Melton (nick-named, "MU").

Charles was the son of Luke Shirley and Margaret Marcum.

Children of Charles and Eliza

1.	Benjamin Franklin	b.	1852
2.	Mary Jane		1857
3.	Laura Ann		1859
4.	Manda A.		1861

The following taken from Anne Bumpus book and the story submitted by Ruth Witt...REMINISCENCES OF VERNA DAVENPORT MATHIS.

Mother said that during the Civil War the Confederate soldiers came for Charles. 'Mu' was a very high tempered lady and spoke very sharply to them. It angered the soldiers so they stood Charles up against the door facing and cut a notch indicating his height. They told her she'd have that notch to remember him by.

Upon receiving the news of Charles death at Ft. Huron in Lousisiana from measles, Mu carried two of the children to neighbors to stay while she rode a horse and carried the baby with her to her fathers and mothers. The next day he brought a wagon and loaded what he could on it, collected the two children and carried them home with him to live. I understand they left many of their possessions because of the distance and Mu's father was unable to make the trip back for them.

Mu reared the children (she got a small CSA pension) as well as she could but had a difficult time. Benjamin Franlin was well educated for his time. It seems he liked school and was self educated also and a good manager. Josie had a small inheritance and he invested it wisely in land and became financially well to do. He took care of his mother and Aunt Laura until she married and moved to Alexandria.

Mother said Aunt Laura kept house for Benjamin and helped with the children. She said she remembered going with her into the woods and around the streams gathering poke and other greens in the spring. They gathered chestnuts, hickory nuts, and walnuts for the winter goodies. In the fall Aunt Laura sliced pumpkins into rings and dried them on fence posts. She strung green beans on a thread and dried them as well as any fruit that was sliced and dried on the house-roof. She made hominy, using wood ashes to make the lye to remove the husks, and washed it in a spring which also kept milk and butter cool. They dug a hole in the garden in the fall and layered turnips and soil in it and kept the turnips all winter. The boys were good hunters, especially uncle Dee, and they kept Aunt Laura spplied with the game. The hogs ran in the woods and ate acorns, etc. They hunted them in the fall and slaughtered them. There was a good supply of molasses honey and popcorn. They had geese which they picked once a year and feather beds and pillows from the feathers. Instead of a mattress, straw beds were used under the feather beds. Churns were filled with brined pickles and sour kraut. My mother had a vivid recollection of the first glass jars to perserve vegetables. Everything until that time was either fresh, dried, or brined. The women sat by the fire and churned and knitted. All the men's shirts had to be sewn by them, socks and sweaters as well as tobogans had to be readied for the winter.

After Ma (Josie) died, Pa, who always had fine horses and buggies, carried Mother, Vera and Era to Sugar Tree Knob in search of a new wife. They were just little girls at that time. Mother said Pa was a big tease. He later married Miss Jenny Milligan who was Clay and Ben Hooper's mother.

Pa was a member of Auburn Church of Christ and a staunch Republican. I can remember seeing him myself. He was a small man, blu-eyes, mustache, gray and plenty of hair and very dignified in appearance. He died from a stroke, We were there the night he died. He is buried in the Higgins Cemetary by his farm.

Mother lived on one of his adjoining farms until she was 13 years old. My grandfather, Cates Davenport, Etna's husband, rented the farm from Pa and ran a store nearby. Mother must have stayed at Pa's most of the time. It was less than a mile in distance. The place Mother lived was Hurrican Road and Pa lived in Shirley Hollow.

There was another Shirley family who lived at or near Jacksboro and they had alot of children. They use to come and visit. I remember one was named Emily Brewer, I think, I can't recall the others names but Mother said several of that family went to Texas.

I remember another name now -- Sarah Seals.

Ma was the wife of Benjamin Franklin. Mother said that Ma stayed in bed most of the time that she knew her and had a baby almost every year.

Local veterinarian guest speaker for Lions Club meeting

Dr. Phillip R. Shirley, Pendleton veterinarian, will be guest speaker of the Lions Club on April 14.

The Pendleton Lions Club will meet at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 14, at the Junction Inn in Fortville. This will be a special "Ladies Night" meeting.

Dr. Phillip R. Shirley will speak to the club about his travels in Latin America. He especially plans to discuss his trip a few months go into Nicaragua. Dr. Shirley recently traveled through Central America and walked into Nicaragua from the southern neighboring country of Costa

He will present his views and observations of a communist country that is undergoing a revolution. He is also going to discuss other experiences of his family in Latin America, relating to the culture and philosophy of the Spanish speaking people.

A Pendleton native and local practicing veterinarian, Shirley attended Indiana University, Anderson College and Purdue University, receiving a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine in 1964. After serving as a Captain in the U.S. Army, he returned to Pendleton where he continues to prac-

Dr. Shirley has been selected as an "Outstanding Young Man of America" and as a Senator in Jaycees International. His father, Dr. Joseph S. Shirley, was a veterinarian in Pendleton and a charter member of the Pendleton Lions Club.

Dr. Shirley is a man of varied interests. He has been involved in music, sailing and tree planting. He likes all kinds of music but favors bluegrass and ragtime. In 1973 he planted a grove of black walnut trees on his farm east of Huntsville. His present interest is Latin America culture and is currently taking a course in this subject at Anderson College. Dr. Shirley is fluent in the Spanish language.

He has made several trips to Latin America but he avoids the resort areas and visits the Pendletons of foreign countries.

"Black," as he was called, was 44 years old when the Civil War started, but his age didn't keep him from shouldering a rifle and marching away with the Fifth Tennessee Infantry, Company F, under Colonel Shell. Before he returned to his wife and 5 children he had gone marching through Georgia with Sherman.

Mr. Shirley's wife died soon after the war and he married Cassie Elizabeth Dilbeck. To this union were born two children, Jim And Fielander Shirley. When his eldest daughter and her family came west they wrote such glowing accounts of the Big West that her father packed up and came along, settling in Parker County one and a-half miles east of Springtown on a hill, on 219-acre farm, which was then the Fort Worth road.

BLACKMON L. SHIRLEY

Blackmon L. Shirley, said to be the oldest man in Texas, was born in 1819 away up in the Sezuatchie Valley of East Tennessee, near the town of Pikeville, situated some forty miles north of Chattanooga in the mountains. He was one of the youngest of 15 children. There he grew to young manhood reared among prevalent hard times of his day. His father died from a cancer caused by an amateur or so called "Doctor" trying to cure a wart on his hand. His mother died giving birth to twins. The twins died also.

Blackmon had married a Wellington and to this union were born five children, Sarah Jane Shirley (Fitts), Kittie Shirley (Fitts), Jo Shirley (Casey), Margaret Shirley (Freeley) and Jess

REPORT ON THE LOS ANGELES MEETING

Gerald and John Shirley, above, are two of those who attended the L.A. meeting. It was great to see some new friends and some we've met before. We met Jean Clark and Barbara Helfrich from our England trip. My thanks to you who attended.

What a week-end to go to Los Angeles. Did anyone think about us being there when the earthquakes hit? Well, we were there for the one that hit on Sunday morning just before 4:00 A.M.

On Thursday, my neice, Barbara, called me and asked me if I was listening to the T.V. I was not and she told me about the earthquake and asked if I still wanted to go. I verified that I

I would still be going and asked her if she was backing out. She hesitatively said she would go to.

I kidded with her on the way down, as we drove, and when we checked in the hotel and entered the room, I called her attention to the moving light overhead. She laughed.

We heard the news and the preparations to make in case of another earthquake. We placed our flashlight and purse by our bed etc...On Sat. night I told her that so far so good. We realized we had not decided where to protect ourselves in the motel room if another quake hit. There were windows and mirrors and really no place except under the desk or between the bed. So we agreed between the beds. We would then try and pull the mattress over us to protect us from anything falling.

I became restless about 3:30 A.M. and slept lightly from then until the quake. I thought at first I was home and my husband had bumped the bed as he walked by. Then it dawned on me that I was in L.A. and that it was probably Barbara, my niece, walking by the bed. Then I realized in a flash it was an earthquake. I sat up and told Barbara it was an earthquake...hit the deck!!! I, like a good girl, did just that. Barbara said she felt it...but I think she was still half asleep. She stood between the beds and here am I bending over on the floor. I couldn't believe I was on the floor and she was just standing there. I was ready to yell at her when I realized it was over. We sat for a second and stared at each other. I asked her why she didn't hit the deck? She said she was waiting to see if it was going to be a bad one. Oh well, we survived and left later in the day for home. We have laughed and laughed about her just standing there and me down on all fours between the beds. Oh Well!

The Home of Tommorrow Has Identification Signs Inside and Out by Shirley Signs, Inc.

One of the most interesting and informative exhibits at The 1982 World's Fair is United American Solar Group's Home of Tommorrow. It shows how a solar home costing under $50,000 can be heated for as little as $30 per month.

Solar Crafters Inc., a Knoxville area solar specialty company, in conjuction with Norris Industries Inc., builders of modular homes, combined forces to achieve a selfreliant home that is marketable now and eligible for a conventional loan.

United American Solar Group was developed to aid energy conscious potential home-buyers who can't afford the skyrocketing costs of housing and the consequent high interest rates, according to Charles Simpson, who has been involved

Visitors to the exhibit can see how the solar heating system works since sections of the attic, wall and floor are open for viewing the operation. Simply stated, solar heat is collected in the attic and stored in the basement for night use. The active/passive solar system in the house also takes care of the hot water. It's a good example of how to cut your electric bills and still stay comfortable on a budget. Shirley Signs, Inc., Lexington

The Lady of Pleasure

JAMES SHIRLEY

The Lady of Pleasure recreates a world of conspicuous consumption in which fashion, sophistication, and wit are the criteria of excellence. It is the first English play in which a woman's act of adultery is treated as plausible, forgivable, and even ordinary mistake. Aretina, wife to Sir Thomas Bornwell, comes to London looking for adventure. When she meets Alexander Kickshaw she thinks she has found what she needs. What she learns from a one-night stand is conventional, but the way in which she learns is surprisingly modern. Ronald Huebert's edition includes a biographical portrait of the author, James Shirley (1595-1666), a critical evaluation which stresses the social context of Shirley's art, a discussion of the play's first performance at the Cockpit in Drury Lane (1635), and a text based on a new bibliographical interpretation of the quarto (1637).

RONALD HUEBERT is Professor of English at Dalhousie University, Nova Scotia, Canada

The Cardinal

JAMES SHIRLEY ELIZABETH M. YEARLING ed

James Shirley's last tragedy mixes love and politics in a carefully structured revenge plot as a corrupt cardinal, hungry for power, menaces the betrayed duchess Rosaura. The play comes after a long line of macabre Jacobean revenge plays, yet by his presentation of a recognisable ordinary world Shirley achieves something different from most of his predecessors' work. Elizabeth Yearling's edition is based on the collation of all extant copies of the original 1653 edition, and thus offers the most authoritative and reliable text to date. In her introduction she considers the play's material and style as representative of the taste and concerns of the mid-seventeenth century, with an extended discussion of Shirley's use of plain and ornate dramatic language. She examines possible sources for the story and describes the play's theatrical history as well as offering a detailed bibliographical note on the text.

The late ELIZABETH M. YEARLING was Lecturer in English at the University of Glasgow

-Charles Shirley joined the Navy in 1928. He became an aerial photographer, helping chart unknown areas. He mapped Nanking when it was the capital of China. Shirley traveled with Adm. Richard Byrd on five expeditions to the Antarctic. Mt. Shirley, he says, is 75 miles east of Little America. But none of his accomplishments was enough to keep him from being "pushed around by college graduates." He resented that throughout the years, so finally the seventh-grade dropout went back to school. Now nearing 70, Shirley will be graduated from the University of Florida's school of journalism in August. A quiet, unas-suming man, Shirley says, "I'm not going to sit down and wait to die. I'm going to keep going as long as I can. I'm going to do something."

Shirley Association—Membership

The Shirley Association began in 1978 to help other Shirley descendants discover more about their family and Shirley ancestors. The service provided to our members includes:

- Review of their ancestral information. From our material we will provide any information we have on their direct lineage. We have been successful in going back an additional 3 and 4 generations in one correspondence for some new members.
- Upon request, list of all other members past and present of those descending from their branch of Shirleys. Correspondence is encouraged as there will be other ancestors in addition to Shirleys in common. You can exchange family stories, photos and even arrange your own re-union.
- Members receive 4 issues of the Shirley News.

Membership—$15.00 per year
